

CAN END STRIKE; SO SAYS SHAFFER

If Ames' Offer to Union-ize Non-Union Mills Is Sincere.

CRISIS IS AT HAND

If Men's Demands Are Not Granted, Strike Will Be Made General.

MORE MILLS CLOSED

Pittsburg, Pa., July 17.—The Amalgamated officials report the third day of the strike to have opened quietly at all of the mills where a contest is being made. Shaffer declares the strike may be ended instantly if Vice President Ames is sincere in his offer that the Amalgamated association may organize men in the non-union mills, trust to abrogate its contract with employees that they shall not join the union. That is the whole contention as to the ordering of a general strike in every union department of the steel mills, Shaffer says the time has not come, but will soon arrive if the men's demands are not granted. Indeed he fears that he cannot hold many mills in line to await the formal order.

General Organizer Flynn's Offer
Pittsburg, Pa., July 17.—Developments this morning show a general interest being taken in the great struggle. General Organizer Flynn of the federation of labor called at Amalgamated headquarters and tendered all the aid that lies in the power of the federation.

Carnegie Mills May Be Next
Pittsburg, Pa., July 17.—Carnegie mills may be the next to fall in line in the strike of the Amalgamated association of iron, steel and tin workers against the American Sheet Steel, American Steel Hoop and American Tin Plate combines.

Today the strike leaders sprung another surprise by closing down the hoop mills of William Clark's Sons & Co., at Thirty-fifth street. This plant has been operated with non-union men for many years and they have steadily refused to join the Amalgamated association. The manufacturers consider it invulnerable to union attacks, but today the Amalgamated people had little difficulty in organizing a lodge among the men and putting them on strike.

May Quit at Any Moment.
Only a few blocks below the Clark plant is the Upper Union Mill of the Carnegie company. This was one of Andrew Carnegie's first iron properties. It was controlled by the Amalgamated association until the big Homestead strike nine years ago. Since then it has been non-union, the Amalgamated officials making no attempt to regain the lost membership. Today there were rumors that a lodge of the association was being formed among these men and they might strike at any moment.

The Carnegie men have individual contracts with the company, which do not expire until January 1 next. The company claims to pay higher wages than the union mills.

By today's strikes nearly 5,000 men were added to the list of idle mill workers. Over 55,000 are now out. The closing of the Monessen and Clark plants today leaves only two plants of the Steel Hoop Company in operation—the Duncansville, Pa., plant and a small mill at Atlanta, Ga. These employ about 500 men.

May Involve Railway Men
After the Clark men had struck a committee of railroad brakemen called on the Clark mill committee and said that unless the strike was settled in two or three days they would refuse to handle any of Clark Sons' product. In this way the strike may extend to the railroad men.

President Shaffer again stated today he had not been informed of any movement toward mediation between the workers and manufacturers.

Tin Workers Refuse to Work
Bridgeport, O., July 17.—This was the day three thousand tin workers here were ordered to work, but in obedience to the strike order from Shaffer not a man has responded. Stationary Firemen Ordered Strike
Scranton, Pa., July 17.—Stationary firemen of the Lackawanna have ordered a general strike, employers having refused to grant concessions demanded. Nearly every mine is in a crippled condition this morning and many are closed down.

Engineers Threaten to Go Out
Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 17.—The stationary firemen's headquarters is constantly in receipt of encouraging communications bearing on the strike situation. Engineers say they will go out if non-union men and green hands are put in to take the firemen's places.

Steel Strike May Be Settled
Pittsburg, Pa., July 17.—A report comes from a good source in New York that the Steel strike is in a fair way to be settled. Amalgamated officials in New York are in long distance telephone communication on the subject.

Helped to Remove Napoleon's Remains
Ernest August Renner of Cincinnati is one of the few survivors of the 12 men appointed to carry the coffin of Napoleon I at the time of its removal from St. Helena to its present resting place in Paris, and he is the only one of the 12 not a native of France, his birthplace being Hanover.

A SUCCESSOR FOR HUTTON

D. O. Kinsman of Madison Will Fill the Vacancy at Whitewater.

D. O. Kinsman of Madison has been appointed to fill the vacancy in the Whitewater normal school faculty caused by the resignation of A. J. Hutton, who succeeds Supt. Bliss at the State School for the Blind. Mr. Kinsman's salary will be $1,700 a year. Dr. Kinsman is a graduate of the university and also did post graduate work at Madison and at the University of Chicago, taking his doctor's degree in philosophy only a year ago.

BLAZE AT MADISON MAY PROVE FATAL

Kentzler's Livery Barn Destroyed Yesterday—Seven Valuable Horses Burned—Loss $30,000.

Madison, Wis., July 17.—[Special]—Kentzler's livery barn, the fashionable stable of the city, a block from the business center was destroyed by fire which broke out after three o'clock yesterday afternoon. Seven horses, five of them handsome drivers owned by citizens who boarded them at the stables were burned to death.

William Haak, an ex-fireman, who volunteered his services, fell from the roof as he was helping carry up the first lead of hose, striking the cement sidewalk, and receiving injuries which it is feared will prove fatal. Assistant Fire Chief Engelberger and Fireman Wm. Stieler were caught by a falling wall, the latter having a leg crushed, while Engelberger escaped with slight injuries, though half buried in the debris. Policeman Jacob Togstad saw the wall falling as they were playing a stream on it and warned them just in time to save their lives.

The Fess hotel and Ritley's livery barn adjoining on either side, were also partially destroyed, the hotel suffering the most. Only the absence of any wind made the saving of the entire business block and half a dozen residences possible.

The total loss will foot up to about $20,000, covered by insurance. The blaze started in a hay mow, where a quantity of new hay had been stored under the tin roof, and resulted from spontaneous combustion.

Among the vehicles destroyed in Kentzler Bros' barn were seven carriages and a sleigh owned by Senator John C. Spooner.

MANY HERE PURCHASE STOCK

Local Merchants Think Well of Mexican Plantation Lands

If one is to judge from the large number of shares of Mexican plantation stock that has been sold in Janesville to local business men of late by Merrick & Hudson it is quite evident that Bower City residents think well of land in President Diaz's country. The land that Merrick & Hudson offer promises soon to bring the investors good interest on their money. It is being developed fast and is already producing fruits and corn in paying quantities. A steamboat line will soon be in operation from New Orleans to the Mexican coast which will be a great convenience.

The shares of land now offered by the local firm comprise what is known as the Philadelphia plantation of 5,000 acres. Merrick & Hudson, local agents with offices in the mayes block, are financially interested in the Philadelphia plantation to the extent of several thousand dollars.

HAD HIS BROTHER ARRESTED

But the Quarrel was Settled Peaceably and the Case Dismissed

James D. Morton, a young man residing in the town of Johnstown, was arrested this morning by Under Sheriff Cochrane, on a warrant sworn out by his brother, George E. Morton, charging him with assault and battery.

The parties were brought into court and after considering the matter agreed to let the case drop. It was dismissed by Justice Earle on payment of the costs, each of the brothers paying one half.

Harry Maxfield appeared for the state and J. J. Cunningham for the defense.

LIEUTENANT FRANK BOSTWICK ASSIGNED TO THE OREGON

Has Been Ordered to Report for Duty as Executive and Navigating Officer of the Battleship—

Some Interesting Experiences.

Lieutenant Commander Frank M. Bostwick of the United States Navy, eldest son of J. M. Bostwick of this city, has been ordered to report for duty as executive and navigating officer of the Oregon. The rank of the new office is next to that of Captain and the promotion is one which entitles Lieut. Bostwick to heartiest congratulations, not only because of the present advancement but because it is significant of future promotion.

Next Step Will Be Captaincy.
When Mr. Bostwick is again ordered to sea it will doubtless be as a captain. There is strong probability that it will be as captain of the Battleship Wisconsin and this is Mr. Bostwick's fondest desire.

News of Lieut. Bostwick's promotion came to his relatives through a copy of the Army and Navy Register of July 13th, which contained a notice of the order. Naturally, they were greatly pleased by the good news.

Not Political Pull, But Merit.
Mr. Bostwick's friends find special reason for gratification in the fact that his promotion came through no political pull but was the reward of merit and faithful service. Mr. Bostwick has had duty on the Oregon for some time. He arrived in port at San Francisco the middle of June after an absence of nearly three years, having left aboard the Charleston, in August, 1898, since which time he has had positions on the Bennington and Marietta. He was transferred to the Bennington only a short time before the Charleston went on the rocks near Manila.

Was in Manila Engagement.
The Charleston, together with the Concord and Monadnock, had active duty about Manila, and in a letter received soon after the engagement Mr. Bostwick said that shells from the big six and eight inch guns were planted both to the northward and southward of Manila in a way to completely demoralize all of the insurgents within reach. They were told afterwards that when the shells exploded among the natives, or went shrieking over their heads, they simply dropped their guns and ran.

In the same letter he said that shortly after the battle they went on a trip around the island hunting for some Filipino steamers supposed to be running around loose. They found nothing, but had a very enjoyable trip, especially to the southward of Luzon where the narrow channels amongst the many green wooded islets were simply beautiful.

Toured the Philippines.
While he was on the Bennington, Mr. Denby, the head of the first commission from the United States was taken on a tour of inspection among the islands of the Philippine group a voyage both pleasant and profitable.

He Admires the Wisconsin
In a recent letter he said that the battleship Wisconsin was in port at San Francisco and that the state had reason to be proud of such a fine ship. The bronze badger on the forward part of her pilot house shows very conspicuously, while the silver service is elegant.

Wisconsin is the first state in which the legislature has appropriated money to furnish a gift to one of our men-of-war. Mr. Bostwick wrote that he had had a hard three years of it, for life in the Philippines had not been a bed of roses by any means.

ELEATA IS WINNER OF M. AND M. STAKE

She Establishes a New Record at Detroit, and Takes the Race in Straight Heats.

Detroit, Mich., July 17.—The four year old mare Eleata, bred in California by Senator Stanford and sold at auction when a yearling, won the M. and M. race stake for trotters of the 2:24 class today in straight heats and lowered the previous best record for the event, 2:10½ to 2:08½ in her third mile.

It was a howling victory from a racing standpoint, as in the field of fifteen starters there was not one that could make the back mare step to her limit, and she led from start to finish of each heat, being clear of the others before an eighth of a mile had been trotted, making her own pace every foot of the way and winning by from one to three lengths with Driver March looking back at the others.

The betting before the start had its minor fluctuations, but Eleata was at all times the favorite. At one of the hotels last night Nick Hubinger of New Haven, Conn., and E. E. Smathers of New York City made the star wager of the meeting, Smathers laying $10,000 to $5,000 and taking the field against Eleata.

The other races of the day were not sensational.

ANDREW CARNEGIE'S GIFT TO NEW YORK

Contract Signed by Which Generous Scotchman Gives Sixty-Five Libraries to N. Y. City.

New York, July 17.—The formal contract which was adopted a month ago by the board of estimate, providing for the acceptance by the city of Carnegie's gift of $5,200,000 for public libraries, the city agreeing in it to maintain them forever and to provide necessary sites, has been signed by Carnegie and was received from him today by Chairman Rivers of the law committee of the public library. Rivers at once sent it to the mayor. It will in all probability be brought up tomorrow at a meeting of the board of estimate, at which time it is expected that the mayor and the commissioners of the sinking fund will affix their signatures. That will mark the last step in the acceptance of Carnegie's offer, made possible by the enabling acts passed by the last legislature. Under the agreement drawn up those exact terms will not be made public until it is brought up for final action. Carnegie agrees to pay for about sixty-five buildings, and the city agrees to find sites for them all, maintain them, and provide the books. Although the debt limit is nearly reached, it is expected that there will be no trouble in raising the money for them.

ARE AFTER A CROOK DEFRAUDING VETS

J. W. Dunn, with Numerous Aliases, Wanted Badly—He Represented Himself a Pension Examiner.

Madison, Wis., July 17.—[Special]—A description is being sent out by Colonel E. B. Gray, assistant adjutant of the Grand Army of the Republic to post adjutants throughout the state, of a man who is wanted by the government authorities for swindling veterans, and who is probably working his game somewhere now. His "graff" is to represent himself as a pension examiner, and he tells his victim that his pension has been cut down, but that he can fix it for him and have it continued without reduction for from $2 to $10, according to his estimate of his victim's purse. He was last heard from at Brodhead, where he tried to sell a horse which it was said had been stolen. Special Pension Examiner Hall, who is working on the case, wants him arrested and wired information to the U. S. district attorney at Madison.

The Crook's name is J. W. Dunn, alias Dolan, alias Doyle. He is about 50 years old, 5 feet 7 inches tall, weighs 160 lbs very bald, heavy sandy mustache, light complexion, slightly stoop-shouldered, and has a bluish or spot in the white of the left eye.

RECORD BREAKER IN WAY OF PICNICS

Union Sunday School Picnic Took Nearly Two Thousand People to Lake Geneva This Morning.

The largest picnic party that ever left Janesville crowded into fourteen coaches of the special train chartered by five of the Sunday schools of the city, filling the seats, the aisles and every available inch of room.

Packed full of humanity and with one car devoted to lunch baskets, the special C. M. & St. P. train pulled out for Lake Geneva this morning. On board the train were over two thousand people representing the Congregational, Presbyterian, Methodist and Baptist Sunday schools.

Some idea of the crowd can be gained from the fact that 1,500 tickets were sold before this morning. Ticket Agent Meltzer handled one hundred bits of pasteboard at the ticket office this morning. His supply ran out and many people had to pay cash fare on the train.

In addition to this all of the children of the Sunday school under 15 years of age were carried free. From the point of numbers the union Sunday school picnic was a grand success.

The excursionists were taken to Lake Geneva on the Janesville & Southeastern line to Walworth and from there to the lake by the electric line. They will return at an early hour this evening after their outing at one of Wisconsin's most beautiful lakes. A ride around the lake, free to all children, was one of the pleasures of the day.

TRIES NEW MARRIAGE LAW

Dr Geo. M. Moore of Fond du Lac Lac Marries Without License

Fond du Lac, Wis., July 17.—Dr. George M. Moore of this city, who figured in a divorce suit here some time ago, the plaintiff being Mae Belle Brown Moore, has secured an order from Judge Kirwin, making it possible for him to marry Miss Marian Lake, a society belle of Oconomowoc. The order was necessary as the last legislature passed a bill making it an offense for parties to a divorce to wed until a year from the signing of the decree had passed.

This is the first case under the new law in this state. An order was also granted by Judge Richter, county judge allowing him to wed. Miss Lake without taking out a license. The marriage preparations were to have been kept quiet. At the time of the divorce suit the evidence was heard behind closed doors and was of a nature making it impossible to publish it. The Ripon young woman who sued for a divorce sustained the charges set up in her complaint and was given a decree of divorce and a division of the property.

AMYLESLIE WEDS! HOTEL BELL BOY

Sensational Wedding of a Well Known Dramatic Critic.

GROOM IS YOUNG

Is Only Twenty-Three Years Old, While Bride is Forty-Five

WEDDING A SURPRISE

Chicago, July 17.—Amy Leslie, the well-known dramatic critic, is a bride. She fled over to St. Joseph, Mich., with Frank H. Buck, head bellboy at the Virginia hotel, last Sunday and there, unobserved among the hundreds of other hot-weather pilgrims to the Gretna Green, they were married by a justice of peace. The bride told the marriage license clerk that she was forty-five years old, and the bellboy confessed to only twenty-three. He is a handsome youth, said to be a member of a respectable family of Dallas, Texas.

Last fall he suddenly turned his back on his patrimony and struck out to earn his way in the world with his own hands. Within a month he had drifted to Chicago and found a position as a "Buttons" in a North Side hostelry.

The Bellboy Makes Love

Young Buck immediately made himself invaluable to the management and popular with the guests. He was big, handsome and tactful. Miss Leslie for several years has lived at the house, and the dark-eyed Buttons had not carried ice water to her apartments many times before she became interested in him.

Buck rose to be chief of the bellboys but found time to win Miss Leslie's affection. Last Saturday he suddenly resigned his position at the hotel, and the next day the marriage took place. The wedding trip was a return from St. Joseph and no cards were sent out, only the license returned in the Michigan town telling the story.

Bride Once An Opera Singer

The license was issued to Frank H. Buck and Lillian Brown. The bride's maiden name was Lillian West, but she was married to Harry Brown, an operatic comedian. She was divorced from Brown and immediately assumed the pen name of Amy Leslie. Her father was Albert West, a journalist who served his apprenticeship under Horace Greeley, and was well known in the Mississippi valley. Lillian West was educated at St. Mary's academy, Notre Dame, Ind., and became a singer in operettas.

After the death of her father Miss West left the stage, her last appearance being in the "Pearl of Pekin." Fifteen years ago she wrote her first newspaper critique as Amy Leslie and for the last ten years she has been dramatic editor of the Chicago Daily News.

For many years she has been a moving spirit in a constantly enlarging group of local writers and actors. For knowledge of plays and players and for acquaintance with the technicalities of the world behind the footlights she is unsurpassed among dramatic critics.

Groom Seeks Parental Blessing

The boy bridegroom left for Texas with his wife yesterday morning to announce his marriage to his parents and seek their blessing. The bride's brother-in-law, Zina R. Carter, said yesterday that he had not heard of the dramatic critic's marriage. Buck has been in Chicago six months; Miss Leslie has been here for many years. He drifted to the Virginia hotel and got a job as bellboy—that was luck. Miss Leslie has lived at the Virginia for a long time. She saw the good-looking bellboy; they began to talk to each other. It became a matter of hearts and souls—that was fate. Then they went to St. Joseph and promised never to part—that was marriage.

MORE HELP WANTED THAN APPLICANTS

Free Labor Bureau Reports Show Many More Positions Than Applicants to Fill Them.

Madison, Wis., July 17.—[Special]—The reports of the free labor bureau, at Milwaukee and Superior, established by the last legislature, show that 424 applications for help were filed, while 185 persons applied for places. One hundred positions were filled, and 324 unfilled, 35 of the applicants not finding work that suited them. Four of the applicants were women, two as domestics and two as scrub women. Of male help, there were 174 applications for laborers, but only 67 applied, all of whom found work. Teamsters were the only class where the supply exceeded the demand, 11 wanting places, with but six applications for help.

APPOINTED AS POLICEMAN

Madison, Wis., July 17.—[Special]—Robert Lafferty, of Milwaukee, is now a capitol policeman, having been appointed to the place made vacant by the resignation of Policeman Evans, last winter.

THAT FOOTVILLE SCHOOL PROBLEM

Footville School Board States Facts in Order to Correct Current Misunderstanding.

Editor Gazette. As the question of changing the Footville school from its present status to a graded school of the first-class has been agitating the minds of our citizens for some time past; and as we consider it a matter of vital importance, and has caused much heated discussion pro and con, the school board of Joint District No. 1, for Center and Plymouth, beg leave through the medium of your valuable journal to make a plain and concise statement of facts relative to the matter, and their official action thereon.

Since June 7th, the members of the Board have strenuously and honestly endeavored, by every just and prudent means, to set before the voters of this district the absolute necessity of enlarging our school; the certain benefits which will accrue from the change, and the trifling cost to the individual taxpayer;—having in view the fact that by so doing we would receive nearly enough financial aid from the state to carry on the primary room, and still employ our principal and intermediate teacher for the same wages as at present.

The question "Why do we want it?" has frequently been asked and may be thus answered:

1st—It is our duty to the country at large.

2d—It is our duty to ourselves.

3d—It is, above all else, our duty to our children and those of our neighbors.

4th—It will be an unquestionable benefit to our village and to all property holders.

5th—Children will acquire more knowledge; learn with greater rapidity; graduate the sooner, and be much more thorough.

6th—Our school, in its present state, is crowded to excess.

7th—The High school work will not, (as has been argued), be so advanced as to exclude all but a few of the best scholars; but the studies will be carefully adapted to the needs of the pupils and of the district.

The School Board beg leave to state that they took this matter in hand in good faith;—not to carry out wishes or preconceived opinions of their own; but in the firm belief that the proposed change would eventuate in the greatest good to all concerned—the district, the village, the children, and the property holders.

Why Object?—Increase of Taxes.

The cry, "Increased taxes!" has been raised by many; but, when duly considered, it is of slight importance after all. A heavy burden, truly! For example: A man assessed at $500 would pay 37½ cents per year additional for four years. One whose assessed valuation is $7,000 pays 75 cents per year more. Assessed at $2,000, $1.50 for four years. At $3,000, $2.25 per year for four years; and at $5,000, $7.50 per year for the same length of time! What a tremendous incubus in the shape of school taxes! These figures are based on the assessed valuation for our joint district, $200,000; and the added tax per year is less than one and one-half mills per dollar. What a crusher!

Another objection is prevalent among those who are ignorant of facts; namely, that only three or four scholars can enter the upper room; or those who have passed the eighth grade. This is all a mistake.

For instance: A school of seventy-five or eighty pupils can be distributed through the three rooms, as the principal sees fit or as best suits the demands of the school. There is nothing in the new school law specifying what grades shall be in each room. This is arranged in accordance with the demands of the situation. The late superintendent does not purpose preparing a course of study (as some contend), for all three department graded schools all over the state; but will draw up a course of study for different schools in different localities as may appear fitting.

If some High school work is required in a certain community, it will be put in; otherwise it will be withheld until it is deemed necessary.

The cost of maintaining a three department school here will be less than $100 per year above the expense of running our present two room school, on account of the additional state aid drawn from the $60,000 appropriation made at our last legislative session.

Why should we pay taxes to maintain other High and graded schools and go without at home? We, who subscribe hereto would much prefer to have our names enrolled in favor of this movement, than to stand on record as its opposers. Let it be understood, however, once for all, that the Board are only waiting to do the bidding of the people. We do not wish to do anything adverse to the declared sentiments of our citizens; and are earnestly desirous of accomplishing that which we believe to be for the greatest good for all.

But we do not hesitate for a moment to declare that we favor this step, being well assured that it cannot fail to result in subserving the best interests and welfare of our community. And while we are members of the Board we shall labor for the advancement and well being of the school and the district, regardless of opposition.

To be a member of the school board is no sinecure at best; but it is hard to do the work of a district to the very best of one's judgment and ability, and be stigmatized with the epithets "unfair," "dishonest," and "selfish," as a reward for your services. And in view of the dissatisfaction which seems to obtain (not in the Board, but in the district), and to save the district any litigation in the future, we have, in pursuance of our best judgment, concluded to call a special meeting, on July 22d, at 7 p. m., at the school house, that this matter may be finally and definitely settled; and we assure you that we will willingly and peacefully abide by the decision of the people.

It is a matter in which we should all be deeply interested. Recent correspondence with the state department since they have received our school report urges very strongly this third room, inasmuch as our yearly enrollment and daily attendance demand it.

What has our neighboring town, Oxfordville, done? Simply what we advocate; and it has given such general satisfaction that a movement is now on foot to add the fourth room, without the aid of the additional state money which they are excluded from receiving on account of being incorporated.

The school board are not in favor of any litigation being brought upon the district, and will do all in their power to bring the best results to a harmonious decision. The calling of this special meeting is not, in our opinion, absolutely necessary, and will cause the district to incur a slight expense. But while matters are in their present confused state, we have endeavored to act as we knew the voice of a majority of the voters would have us do, and let fairness and impartiality govern all.

SENSIBLE THINGS TO TAKE INTO CAMP

The Summer Girl of the Woods Should Go in for Comfort Without Needless Frills.

The sensible woman who decides to camp out should dispense with all the superfluous. She should get right back to first principles, and make the outing as complete a change as possible in every way. It does not matter whether the camp is to be in the mountains or woods or on the seashore, she should reduce her personal outfit to a minimum. This not only for economy's sake, but for comfort. The outing should be a rest in every particular, and there is no common sense in trying to have things for show. Dainty muslin gowns are as much out of place in a tent as an elephant would be in a parlor.

The first requisite to be thought about is shirt waists. Nice plain shirt waists of light weight flannel and dark in color. Two of these, with two or three cotton ones, also dark in color, for very hot days, should carry a camper through at least two weeks under canvas. The golf skirt settles the skirt question quite satisfactorily. Two short skirts of dark linen, either in blue or brown, would be ample for wear with the cotton shirt waists. Not white petticoats should be carried, but three dark washable skirts, which may be dropped into the tub without any thought.

For shoes, the golf shoes are best, while a pair of rubber boots should be added—the latter for wading and for rainy days in the woods. Don't take an umbrella or a parasol. Take two old straw sailors and a mackintosh instead and let the rain come down on them. One suit of heavy flannel underwear is a necessity, while a sweater will be convenient for cool mornings and evenings. A golf cape is desirable, to use for a rug if for nothing else. A soft hat of cotton or wool, with a stitched brim is better than a cap for every-day wear, as it is cool and shades the cheeks as well as the eyes. The old sailors are for rainy days only, remember. Now, all of these things will cost but a trifle, for as a rule the last year's shirt waists may be impressed into service for the cottons, and a couple of the winter ones, cleaned and pressed, for the thicker ones. If sales are watched a very good pair of golf shoes may be bought for $1.50, and a pair of rubber boots for the same, or even less. A golf skirt would cost about $4.50, and a mackintosh the same.

But the dress for camping, while it is important, is not all that a girl has to consider. There are many minor points known to the seasoned camper that a novice would do well to grasp. These include tent accessories that help to make a cozy interior. The trunk that the wardrobe is carried in should have a flat top, one that may be utilized as a dressing table. A simple cover of cretonne, which is easily removed when the trunk is opened, may be made at home and the dressing table covered without delay. If the tent is large enough to bear being divided, shutting the cots from view, it would be well to take along flowered cotton curtains for the purpose. These may be strung on stout cord, which should be run in a wide piece turned down from the top. Should the tent be too small for this the cots may be covered with rugs or whatever is most convenient. There should be at least one pair of heavy blankets, dark in color, and cushions, as many as one can afford. These should be covered with washable cretonnes or denim, so that they may be used without any worry about ruining them.

The bathing suit of mohair may be home made, thus reducing the cost materially. Flannel is considered much less desirable than the mohairs and their expense is greater.

A suggestion for a camp refrigerator is to have a barrel sunk into the ground a convenient distance from the tent. In this the supplies for the chafing dish should be kept; the canned things that have been opened and the condensed milk.

Some tea cups, but no saucers, and an oil stove are necessities which may be had for a trifle, and there should be tea, coffee, cocoa and lemons for variety in drinkables. The bicycle lamp which has ceased to do its original duty makes a capital tent light, and may be fitted to the tent pole as easily as it was once fastened to the front of the wheel. For extra light to be carried about an ordinary tin candlestick with a candle and a glass lamp chimney will be found a great convenience. A half dozen of these would be useful and might be easily carried. Of course, tea cups and cretonne covers and refrigerators go hand in hand with camping out in civilized fashion.

When a girl goes in for life in a hunting camp and really roughing it, she takes but one golf skirt, two flannel waists, a single Tam cap, a thick jacket, the golf shoes and rubber boots. Her other needfuls she folds into a dress suit case or a telescope, and in every particular declines to compromise between town life and camp life. The bed of boughs is good enough then, and she goes to bed so early that the flames of the camp fire over which the game has been cooked are sufficient to light up the tent. Even in camping there are degrees, and a woman should consider well the fashion of the outing she is planning before getting the wardrobe for it.

VALUABLE INDIAN POTTERY IS FOUND

Wisconsin Collector Finds Ancient Clay Vessel in a Cemetery Near Two Rivers, This State.

H. P. Hamilton, of Two Rivers, Wis., a well known archeologist, has recently enriched his large collection of Indian relics by the addition of an ancient clay vessel, which was found in an old burial ground.

The vessel before being restored consisted of nearly 200 hundred fragments, which were carefully put together until the entire vessel assumed its original proportions. The find is considered a very rare and valuable one, as only a few are known to have been found in Wisconsin.

Its height is 121-2 inches, greatest circumference .47 inches, weight ten pounds, opening at top oval, 12 inches by 10 inches the short way. The outside surface shows markings of a willow basket inside, with which the vessel was no doubt originally molded. A smaller vessel was found about two years ago within two hundred feet from where the larger one was found and was never broken except along the rim.

The locality where it was found is on the lake shore right on the limits of Two Rivers. Fragments of thousands of clay vessels have been picked up on this side and also various implements of copper and stone, besides thousands of arrows and spearheads during the past fifty years. It was undoubtedly an extensive manufacturing site in ancient times. No county in Wisconsin is so rich in aboriginal remains as Manitowish, and particularly the Two Rivers and vicinity, which seems to have been a locality much resorted to by the ancient inhabitants.

Whole clay vessels of original workmanship are exceedingly scarce in Wisconsin, owing to the severe climate, which destroys them.

Restored vessels for this reason are also very scarce, and there are probably not a dozen vessels, whole or restored, in all the museums and private collections. Mr. Hamilton's collection consists of hundreds of copper and thousands of stone implements found in Wisconsin and is probably one of the finest in the country.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE IN SCHOOLS.

The order of the Chicago Board of Education to drop cooking and sewing from the public schools after Jan. 1 has called forth a spirited protest in The Tribune from a mother of five girls. This correspondent says if something must go it should be one of the useless things. She believes her girls get more benefit from the practical instruction in the domestic sciences than from anything else taught in the schools. One daughter, who is in the grammar school, can do her own sewing and cook for the entire family. The mother looks upon this as a greater gain for the girl and a greater lightening of her own burdens than any amount of book knowledge would be. She urges the mothers of Chicago to rise in force and protest against the dropping of domestic science—the one practical branch of manual training given to the girls in the public schools.

If a majority of Chicago mothers take this view of the subject, the Tribune says they should make their wishes known. The matter is one that they ought to be interested in. It is true that cooking and sewing can be taught to girls at home, but many busy mothers have no time to do it, nor can they afford the waste of materials involved. A class of thirty or fifty girls will waste little more in learning to sew and cook than one girl would waste, and a teacher can do in one hour what it would require thirty or fifty hours to do if the pupils were taught separately in their homes.

If the mothers find that the domestic science classes are a relief to themselves and a benefit to the girls, it might be better for the Board of Education to drop some of the more ornamental and less useful studies and keep the classes in cooking and sewing. More might be gained by dispensing with some of the languages or sciences. It is worth more to the average girl to know how to make her own dresses or cook a meal than to have a smattering of a foreign tongue or to know how to dissect a grasshopper. If the work done in the domestic science classes really has the practical and valuable results claimed by this protesting mother it would be a pity to eliminate it from the schools. Undoubtedly the board would be willing to change its proposed action if it became convinced that the mothers of Chicago are unitedly in favor of retaining the cooking and sewing courses.

The question, before the American and British Missionary Return? Boards, is shall the missionaries be sent back to their work in China? Probably the missionaries are better able to determine this question than the Boards; their knowledge of the Chinese character ought to be a good guide to the safety of such a move. At any rate their efforts ought to be confined to those sections of the country most friendly to foreigners.

The effect of extra territorial law has been to make the missionary a law to himself, and because of his immunity from civil action, it is possible for criminal Chinese to use the missionary as a protection for his crimes. Then again, the missionary should let politics alone, as it is a well known fact that many of the outrages were perpetrated because of the interference of foreigners in local affairs. Sir Robert Hart is perhaps the best informed man on China today and if he reads the signs of the times aright, there is more trouble brewing in China; and this unsettled state of affairs will continue so long as the Empress Dowager is allowed to control affairs of state. The Chinese are slow to learn, and it may be the lesson given them will not be thoroughly learned until another one will have to be administered.

The London Times expresses the opinion of England on the proposed "boycott" against American trade expansion. "If by any conceivable infatuation, the continental powers were to combine for such an end, the British Empire would leave them to their fate. Our interests, traditions, and inclinations all dictate that course to us."

Dowie must fear that he cannot hold his followers by faith. Zion City leases run for 1,100 years, and are of the "cut-throat" brand. Prayer is all right for the other people but when it comes to Dowie himself, the scads must be real, and the security of a sterling, worldly character.

The Half-Breeds fully realize the force of the statement that "a good name is rather to be chosen than great riches."

The hour required in order to find a policeman still consists of sixty full length and extra hot minutes.

"Vast expansion, collective force, inexhaustible energy," is the way Frederick Harrison describes the United States.

Perhaps if the C. M. & St. P. company would lease a few nickel-in-the-slot machines it would be different.

"I want to put up two new buildings to cost about $50,000 in this town. Can I do so?" asked the stranger.

"Sure," said the alderman. "We want all the new buildings we can get, and the council will be glad to lend its encouragement. What are the buildings to be?"

"A passenger depot and a freight depot. When can I begin work?"

"Depots!" yelled the alderman, getting purple in the face. "Depots! Never! never! never! You can build a saloon, a stone crusher, a slot machine factory, a warehouse, or any other old thing you want, but you can't put any $50,000 of your own money into a depot!"

Not by a jugful! Not while I am in the council and absolutely own six living, breathing votes besides my own. Depots! Wow! —

But the stranger had tucked his check book back into his pocket and fled.

Will it be ever thus?

HORSES' HATS ARE GAILY TRIMMED

Alderman Gilkey's Horse Disdains Untrimmed Millinery and Sets a New Fashion.

Janesville is sometimes slow to take up with a fashion but once it is started it is rapidly taken up. It is due to this somewhat characteristic trait of the city, perhaps, that so many of the horses have been provided with the queer straw bonnets which they wear so becomingly and with such evident comfort. A week ago the hat crowned horse was a novelty in this city but the first drivers who took up the style were speedily followed by other possessors of humane sympathies and during the past week of continued warm weather the number of hats seen on local horses has been on the steady increase.

The ordinary hat, with only its comfort to recommend it and lovely only in the eyes of those who looked at what it represented in the way of kind hearted humanity rather than at its artistic get-up, has been good enough for most of the horses, who were grateful enough for the new style in all of its unadorned beauty. But the aristocratic bit of horse flesh belonging to Alderman H. S. Gilkey turned up a delicate and contemptuous nose at the flapping untrimmed straw bonnet, and would have none of it until a gorgeous wreath of artificial flowers was placed around the crown. This done, the hat met approval and was worn with a great deal of pride.

But envious eyes were on that hat with its unusual decoration, and yesterday afternoon, the delivery horse, belonging to C. S. & E. W. Putnam appeared in all the glory of new attire and took a turn at attracting the attention of the few people abroad who had life enough left to notice anything. Two enormous roses bobbed around in the most approved style on the front of the hat which adorned the equine's head, proudly held erect in spite of the fact that the enervating heat would have ordinarily bowed the proud head low.

GOLFTOURNAMENT OPENS TOMORROW

MANY PROMINENT PLAYERS ARE NOW IN THE CITY.

The Qualifying Round Will Start Promptly at 8 O'clock Tomorrow Morning.—The First Round Match Play at 2 O'clock—Schaller and Baker Win Out for Richardson Medal

Tomorrow morning promptly at 8 o'clock the first pair of golf players will be started on the qualifying round for the Wisconsin State championship cup. Other pairs of players will be started as fast as the pair ahead finish playing the first hole. The sixteen lowest scores will qualify for the state championship cup and the next sixteen for the consolation cup.

It is expected that about fifty players will start in this event and that some very good scores will be turned in.

At 2 o'clock the first pair will start in the first round of match play and will be followed by other pairs as fast as they can be started.

The number of entries from the surrounding cities are as follows:

Milwaukee—Hamilton Vose and Louis Allis.
Kenosha—Chester Barnes, Chester Allen, Geo. A. Yule, W. H. Yule, Col. Aiken, and Wm. Cantwell.
Green Lake—J. Walker Ross, Joe DeMoss and Wm. DeMoss.
Appleton—F. Stevens, B. Pride, La. Crose—Robert Hixon.
Madison—Frank Jacobs, J. H. Pyre, Phil King.

Waukesha—Joseph E. G. Ryan, F. Lyon and Mr. Roach.
Most of the players are now in the city getting acquainted with the course and the others will arrive this evening.

Charles E. Pierce, Colin C. MacLean and W. A. Jackson, the games committee, are doing all in their power to get things in first-class shape to have the matches go off smoothly.

The meeting for the formation of the state association will be held at the Grand hotel this evening. Joseph P. Baker and W. A. Jackson have been chosen by the board of directors to represent the Wisconsin Golf club at the meeting.

The semi-finals for the Richardson medal, which were played yesterday afternoon, resulted in victories for Fred J. Baker, who beat Charles Dunn, six up and four to play, and for Albert Schaller, who beat H. H. McKinney, two up and one to play. The finals will be played off during the tournament if possible. It is probable however that both of these gentlemen will have all they can attend to during the tournament so that the finals will have to be postponed.

About thirty good active boys can find steady employment during the next three days caddying for the players.

DAGO LABORERS' ROW AT DEPOT

CHIEF OF POLICE HOGAN AND ALL POLICE SUMMONED.

Italians Were Employed by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Company, and Demanded More Wages—Created Quite a Disturbance—Will Be Sent Home

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul passenger station was the scene of a small sized riot this morning. Shortly after the excursion train pulled out for Lake Geneva, ticket agent, Meltzer and Operator Hayes, were besieged by a mob of excited Italians, who demanded their pay and transportation to their homes.

The Italians, about sixty in number, headed by their foreman, smarted into the men's waiting room, filling it full. They were at the ticket window and were kicking against the door leading into the ticket office. For a time things looked serious for the men in the room. Agent Meltzer had about $500 in money in the drawer and had no means of protecting himself. He thought the men would surely break down the door and would get away with the money.

A telephone message was sent to Chief Hogan, telling him of the trouble and telling him to come at once and bring all of the police force and the sheriff and his deputies.

Without waiting to get his assistants the chief hurried to the station. People warned him that there was trouble in sight and to get someone to help him. He found the room filled with excited Italians and for a few minutes things looked pretty stormy. He got hold of the foreman of the gang and after giving him a good talk, succeeded in getting the men out of the station. He was kept pretty busy about train time keeping them off the trains.

The trouble all started with their foreman and interpreter. Some time ago the foreman was discharged for not attending to his work and the men struck on this account. The railroad company asked them to return to work but the men refused to go back unless the company paid them $1.75 per day. The company was paying them $1.50 per day and refused to pay them any more and a general strike resulted.

Yesterday afternoon they made a demand on the company for their pay and transportation to their homes in Milwaukee and Chicago. This was refused at that time and the police had to be called. The reason they were not paid off yesterday was because the employees of the company did not have their time figured up.

Most of the gang are unable to speak English and go by number. They will be paid off this afternoon and sent to their homes. It is terribly hard working in the gravel pit these warm days and the men claim it is worth $1.75 per day and will not work for less. A new lot of men will be brought in to take their places.

At four o'clock this afternoon the Italians again became unruly. They refuse to take their pay unless they are given transportation to Chicago or Milwaukee.

Agent Johnson telegraphed to Milwaukee for orders and the company refused to give them transportation. The Italians have threatened to tear up the track and the entire police force is watching them. Trouble is feared during the night.

KELLY GOT NONE OF THE $10,000 STAKE

Well Known Horseman Drove in the Big Detroit Race—His Horse Not a Winner.

There was a strong local interest in the great $10,000 M and M. stake for the 2:24 class trotting which was won by Eleata at Detroit yesterday, owing to the fact that John Kelly, the well-known horseman, was one of the drivers although he did not get a piece of the money. Kelly drove Quoddy Girl, a bay mare by Dominer, and finished eighth, twelfth and eighth in the three respective heats.

Race Riot at Americus, Ga.

Several hundred negro excursionists from Macon caused a riot at Americus, Ga., resulting in the shooting of two policemen and the killing of Bill English, a Macon negro, and the ring leader of the disturbance. Three of the excursionists began shooting, and Policemen Clawson and Albritton attempted to arrest Bill English, when the negro shot Albritton, fatally wounding him. English, although dying, raised himself on his elbow and fired again at the policemen, both of whom returned the fire. English fell dead at the second fire. Clawson was shot through the thigh.

CAGED BY GREAT BRITAIN.

Olive Schreiner Languishes Behind a Barbed Wire Enclosure.

London, July 17.—Ouida, the writer, who in private life bears the name of Mme. Louise de la Ramee, protests in today's Daily News against the treatment accorded by the British military authorities in South Africa to Olive Schreiner, the author. Ouida says:

"Olive Schreiner has been transported to a strange place and imprisoned within a fence of wire netting, which is patrolled by armed sentinels stationed at intervals with orders to fire on any one attempting to get through the netting to escape."

"She lives alone, except for her dog, in one small room, for which she pays, cooking for herself. She is compelled to remain all night without any kind of light. Her husband is refused by the British authorities permission to visit her, although her brother is a former premier of Cape Colony."

"What is her offense? Merely to have espoused the cause of the Boers in the war. Is it tolerable that for this alone she should be subjected to the indignity of isolation and be carried away from all she loves?"

In the House of Lords, Lord Raglan, in South Africa, said the whites in the concentration camps numbered 14,624 men, 27,711 women and 43,075 children; that the mortality for the month of June was 63 men, 138 women and 576 children.

Woman Shoots at M. Baudin, Paris, July 17.—M. Baudin, minister of public works, was shot at by a woman, while driving to a cabinet meeting at the Elysee palace today. The woman was accompanied by a 10-year-old child. She approached M. Baudin's carriage and, suddenly drawing a revolver fired at the minister. M. Baudin was not hit and proceeded to the Elysee palace.

Police arrested the woman, who gave her name as Olgewska, and said she lived at Natterre. Her husband is a Pole and was an architect at Nice until 1894.

Troops Shoot Rioters. Vienna, July 17.—More than 100 persons, including troops and police, were wounded in an encounter at Lemberg growing out of an attempt by the police to stop street parades, held in demonstration on behalf of the unemployed. The mob threw up barricades and defied the police. The troops were called in and charged again and again, using bayonets and bullets. Ultimately the demonstrators were dislodged. Lemberg is strongly guarded by troops, but it is reported that the mob is preparing for another fight during the night.

DeKoven Is Reported Dead. London, July 17.—There was sensation without end last night on the stage of the Duke of York's theater when Edna May read a telegram announcing the death of Reginald De Koven. The cablegram also informed the actress of the sudden demise of George Cayvan. The rumors were not confirmed.

Max Regis Is Stabbed. Oran, Algeria, July 17.—While Max Regis, the anti-Semite mayor of Algiers, was going to the Casino he was stabbed in the neck. His assailant was arrested. Rioting followed and thirty persons were taken into custody, among them Louis Regis.

Huge Frauds in Turkey. London, July 17.—A dispatch to the Pall Mall Gazette from Constantinople says great frauds have been discovered in the Turkish customs. The embezzlements are said to exceed £120,000. Several of the higher customs officials have been arrested.

Sisters Take Fatal Poison. London, July 17.—Despondent over failure to secure engagements, Ida and Edith Yeoland, sisters and actresses, committed suicide together by taking poison.

Sends Her to a Rival. Macon, Mo., July 17.—Mrs. Ernestine Burch, a bride of two months, went to Chicago last night to meet a man whom she claimed she loves better than her husband. Her husband purchased her a ticket to Chicago, accompanied her to the station and bid her farewell. She has written a statement in which she exculpates her husband from all blame and admits she was alone responsible for the error in marrying him. She expects the other man to meet her at the station in Chicago and marry her as soon as legal separation can be had from her present husband.

Woman Is Major General. Atlanta, Ga., July 17.—In acknowledgement of the graceful hospitality with which she entertained and welcomed him on his inspection of the Third Georgia volunteers at Washington, Ga., Governor Candler has made Mrs. Legaro Hill Bowles of that place a major general of the state troops. Mrs. Bowles is the sponsor for the regiment. She extended the governor a welcome, couched in glowing and cordial language. During his visit to the camp Mrs. Bowles completely won his esteem by her tact and grace.

Trade Congress Is Opened. Cripple Creek, Col., July 17.—The twelfth annual meeting of the Trans-Mississippi congress opened at Odd Fellows' hall with nearly 1,000 delegates present. Many of the most prominent men in the western states and territories are among the membership, which includes half a dozen governors, twice that number of ex-governors and many senators and congressmen.

Every state and territory in the west is represented.

Killed in Train Wreck. Gallipolis, O., July 17.—A north-bound Hocking Valley freight train and the south-bound pay train ran into each other near Vinton at noon, killing Fireman S. L. Socia of Nelsonville. Engineer James Rafferty of Columbus was probably fatally injured. Paymaster D. E. Leich and his son, of Columbus were badly injured. Brakeman N. W. Dietrich was severely injured.
